

Still That Girl

Britt Nicole

Dreams, they come
Plans, they change
Yeah, we're gonna break
Yeah, we're gonna break
Things we face make us who we are
Baby you're a star shining in the dark
Let's go back to the summer,
To the summer when we dreamed in love,
Let's go back again,
Let's go back again
Yeah, back again, my friend
To the summer when...
I'm holding a picture from seven years back
I smile at the memory, it smiles right back at me
And I see brown hair and bright eyes, such a beautiful blue
A heart full of laughter with nothing to lose
That's how I remember you

You were young, you were free
You dared to believe
You could be the girl
Who could change the world
Then your life took a turn,
And you fell and it hurt,
But you're still that girl
And you're gonna change this world
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl
You're still that girl
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl
You're still that girl

Sometime life don't go the way you planned
And we all have days when we just don't understand
Search for meaning, it's not always easy
But you're story's not over, it's still being told
Your sunrise is coming without letting go
Let's go back again
To the summer when

You were young, you were free
You dared to believe
You could be the girl
Who could change the world
Then your life took a turn,
And you fell and it hurt,
But you're still that girl
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl
You're still that girl
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl

What if the picture is bigger than you see?

And God has you right where he wants you to be
Just listen to your heart
He's telling you with every beat
You're still that girl

You were young, you were free
You dared to believe
Then your life took a turn,
Don't you know?
Don't you see?
But you're still that girl
And you're gonna change this world
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl
You're still that girl
Woh oh oh oh
You're still that girl
You're still that girl

I see it in your eyes,
I see it in your smile
