

Why

Britt Nicole

I don't know why you love me
I don't know why you care
You wrapped your loving arms all around me
When I was lost and in despair

And I don't know why
You would stretch your arms out for me and die
But I do realize that you love me so
And I ask myself: Why?
I don't know

I don't know why you love me
And I don't know why you care
You wrapped your loving arms all around me
When I was lost and in despair

And I don't know why
You would stretch your arms out for me and die
But I do realize that you love me so
And I ask myself: Why?
I don't know
I don't know why you love me
