

long way down

Britton

And it's a long way down
Falling from the feeling of when you were around
You held me up so high
I never feared the ground
But now I'm in the sky
And it's a long way down
Long way down

Free falling
Wind is getting heavy on my back
Could've sworn that I saw a smile crack
On your lips when I slipped
Right out of your hands
And she called it
That little voice living in my head
Heard her the whole time I was living in your bed
Screaming, "Don't fall in love!"
It'll kill you when it ends

Guess that's just the way it goes
Highest highs and lowest lows
Broken heart and broken bones
Wonder if the pain ends
When I hit the pavement

And it's a long way down
Falling from the feeling of when you were around
You held me up so high
I never feared the ground
But now I'm in the sky
And it's a long way down
Long way down

See the thing is
On the decline
Now I got a lot of free time to reflect
Got that little voice with me listing all of my regrets
All the "Shoulda/Coulda/Woulda done this instead"s
Maybe then things would be different
Maybe they still would've fallen apart
But I can't keep grasping at the air
For the past the reappear
It's gone, gotta get it through my heart

And it's a long way down
Falling from the feeling of when you were around
You held me up so high
I never feared the ground
But now I'm in the sky
And it's a long way down
Long way down
