

The Cycle

Britton

I can feel a familiar pull
Gravity's got nothing on you
'Cause when you wanted me back
I would have walked on glass if I had to
We keep running the same circle
And I've got a bad case of déjà vu
Replay the phrase one more chance
Know it's probably not the right thing to do

So if I choose to stay
Guess I haven't had enough
Almost killed me once before
And convinced me it was love
So if I make the trade
My life to keep you close
Maybe I'm the one to blame
Can't say I didn't know

Feelings I've been tryna keep down
Always find a way to rebound
And I don't know what to believe now
They say leave now
Leave now
I hear 'em but my heart is stubborn
In one ear and out the other
'Cause what if I would rather suffer
Than leave now
Leave now

I'd do anything for you, don't say you feel the same
If you really did you wouldn't remake your mistakes
You just reel me in with empty promises to change
Let the broken record play
But I don't wanna hear it now

You had one too many chances to turn it around
Every time I let you back in you just let me down
How am I supposed to leave right now
When my heart won't walk away?

So if I choose to stay
Guess I haven't had enough
Almost killed me once before
And convinced me it was love
So if I make the trade
My life to keep you close
Maybe I'm the one to blame
Can't say I didn't know

Feelings I've been tryna keep down
Always find a way to rebound
And I don't know what to believe now
They say leave now
Leave now
I hear 'em but my heart is stubborn
In one ear and out the other
'Cause what if I would rather suffer

Than leave now
Leave now
