

My One And Only

Bro'Sis

My one and only
I never met a girl quite like you I don't know how you do
But you trigger all this emotions I never knew What can I say
When you step into the room All the others fade away
Just the way that I feel when Im Around you
All the little things that you do Like the way that you move
The sparkle in your eye The way that you smile girl
I walk an extra mile
My one and only that's how I feel about you
Such a prefect combination Baby I feel it too
Youre one in a million I promise I'll always be true
No one else really matters Cause aint anybody like you
In every other relationship I know
The girls always try to turn me into What they want
Try to change my personality
Like they wanted more of someone else And less of me
But youve always been accepting me for who I am
Thru the good thru the bad Youve been there for your man
Like youve been loving me so unselfishly
I wanna give my love unconditionally

Chorus:

My one and only
That's how I feel about you
Such a prefect combination
Baby I feel it too you're one in a million
I promise I'll always be true
No one else really matters
Cause aint anybody like you
You blow my mind Each and every time
You blow my mind Each and every time
My one and only that's how I feel about you
Such a prefect combination Baby I feel it too
Youre one in a million I promise I'll always be true
No one else really matters Cause aint anybody like
