

Where Would I Be

Bro'Sis

In my darkest hour, I stood my ground
There was a part of me, that still believed
Love would not let me down

I don't how, but here and now
When I least expected to, I found the proof
No shadow of doubt

'Cause all the answers to my questions
Are so obvious but true
When I'm asking for direction, it's you

Chorus

'Cause baby where would I be
If I'd ever given up on love
Tell me where would I be
If I'd ever said enough is enough
But I still believe
If you'd never opened up my eyes, baby realise
I'd have never seen what was right in front of me
Tell me where would I be

Now I can't deny, that something inside
Keeps telling me that this could be not meant to be
For once in my life

I'm gonna take my time, when I look in your eyes
I don't wanna miss a thing, just wanna take it all in
Now that you're here by my side

'Cause all the answers to my questions
Are so obvious but true
When I'm asking for direction, it's you

Chorus

Baby where would I be
If I'd ever given up on love
Tell me where would I be
If I'd ever said enough is enough
But I still believe
If you'd never opened up my eyes, baby realise
I'd have never seen what was right in front of me
Tell me where would I be

But I was standing at this open door
I'd be walking right through
Would I be holding out for so much more
I never felt so sure
This was more than I was ever hoping for

Chorus

Where would I be
If I'd ever given up on love
Tell me where would I be
If I'd ever said enough is enough
But I still believe
If you never opened up your heart, show me who you are

I'd have never seen what was right in front of me
If I'd never seen you right in front of me
Tell me where would I be
Tell me where would I be
