Broadside

Digital skin thins as internet prophets
Pretend to listen though not at all
Cause they know that money talks
And trending topics to keep you counting
And notifications better add them up
Another follower is lost

Seize the day
Embrace your pain
Don't hide behind a makeshift window
Peering into moments unknown
Keep your faith
Don't hesitate
To focus on the path that's laid before you
And disconnect

They built up these walls to keep us inside
Project these lies to erase our minds
We're empty inside but the light still shines tonight
Now when's the last time you felt alive
Cause you were not born to simply die
When's the last time you felt alive (last time you felt alive)
Now when's the last time you felt alive (last time you felt alive)

Seize the day
Embrace your pain
Don't hide behind a makeshift window
Peering into moments unknown
Keep your faith
Don't hesitate
To focus on the path that's laid before you
And disconnect

Waiting in the rain for sunny days
Hoping for a change
Oh no
And did you ever stop to think that it's a miracle
That you can feel anything
In the first place

Seize the day
Embrace your pain
Don't hide behind a makeshift window
Peering into moments unknown
Keep your faith (keep your faith)
Don't hesitate (don't hesitate)
To focus on the path that's laid before you
And disconnect
Just disconnect

Unplug your mind
Unplug your mind
