

I Love You, I Love You. It's Disgusting

Broadside

I wrote to you within a melody
If you decide to sing would you sing it back to me
Sing it right through those crooked teeth
You rescued me when my mind was in a prison
You set me free when no one else would listen
Now I finally feel complete

And I will follow you into the sea of eternity
Collapse into my arms
I'll take care of your heart
Though the distance grows between us girl our love won't fall a part
I'll take care of your heart no matter where we are

I know you feel so incomplete
The world is nothing without ya ya see
If I had to spend my dying breath Convincing you of nothing less
You're lovely yeah you're so lovely
And I'm so lucky so damn lucky
And I need you to know that

I'm incomplete yet completely free
When you collapse into my arms
I'll take care of your heart
Though the distance grows between us girl our love won't fall a
part
I'll take care of your heart no matter where we are

Someday despite our age
We'll turn the page
And our daughter will collapse into my arms
And I'll take care of her heart
Though the distance grows between us girl our love won't fall a
part
I'll take care of your heart no matter where we are
I'll take care of your heart no matter where we are
