

Seasons

Broadside

I just wanna feel alive
You can see the stranger in my eyes
Yeah I just want to see the light
Cause it's getting harder every night oh yea
So let's just stop pretending everything's okay
I held my tongue and watched you walk away
A thousand words but none of them can change
I'm not enough, not enough, no

I just want to feel like
I can have a place where I can hide
Yeah I don't want waste your time
Don't even love myself so wait in line
Oh so I just lock the doors and read to stop my brain
Overthink the things I cannot change
Waiting for the chance that I can say
Don't go, won't you stay

I don't believe
We can change like the seasons
But you're still here
And it makes me believe it
I don't believe
We can change like the seasons
But you're still here
And it makes me
You make me believe it

You make me believe it

You must be tired of my sunken pride
And keeping tabs on days that I
Can stop stop stop and catch my breath
And be who you fell in love with

I don't believe
We can change like the seasons
But you're still here
And it makes me believe it
I don't believe
We can change like the seasons
But you're still here
And it makes me
You make me believe it
Myself

You make me
You make me believe it, believe it
Myself
You make me
You make me believe it
