

Crosstown Meltdown

Broadway Calls

This isn't how we're supposed to be. One family broken. Tell me am I overreacting? Or is this epidemic unchecked? Call the medic we're begging please! I'm trying to survive, but everything I've said and done it seems it just doesn't matter. I'm breaking down and dying on the inside. Save me! Save me! We're not alright. So has the question been answered? Alarms are going off crosstown tonight. I feel the darkness creeping over my back. Or is this epidemic unchecked? Call the medic we're begging please! I'm trying to survive, but everything I've said and done it seems it just doesn't matter. I'm breaking down and dying on the inside. Save me! Save me! We're not alright. Dont let us die on the inside. Save us, were not alright.
