Modern Tale

Broken Back

Here's a big bad wolf
In this jungle, unchained
Who bares his fangs
As he hunts game fowl

The sweat fogs his sight
And control breaks down
Voices crack and the sobbing starts

"Surrender yourself, (yeah) body and soul
And overwhelm all your senses"
The shudder moves through this body, strained
Voices crack and the sobbing starts

The slope is steep
No escape for it
The wolf is trapped
The wolf is trapped

And who could have changed the bad wolf
Sure he's lost his mind, he's lost his mind
It's always the same with the bad wolf
It's a matter of time before he picks someone up

The charming creature, a few steps away
Starts moving slowly to the wolf and says
"What sharp fangs you have, Mister Big Bad Wolf"
"All the better, to eat you with"

"What deep eyes you have Mister Big Bad Wolf"
"All the better, to haunt you with"
She has cast her spell, once again he failed
Voices crack and the sobbing starts

She has cast her spell, once again he failed
The wolf is trapped
The wolf is trapped

And who could have changed the bad wolf
Sure he's lost his mind, he's lost his mind
It's always the same with the bad wolf
It's a matter of time before he picks someone up
