

Walking in this sweet and sour rain
Staring at the ocean with no end
I watch the sea, the sand and rocks
Thinking about what I should have told them before
From the very beginning
You are here with my dreams, my hopes and all my tears
I know I owe you everything
That matters to me to let you know what I...

I think I have something to say
Just a few words beneath my lips
I'll sing it each time on my way
'Cause there is a truth I wanna see
Hey you've always been here
Anytime I needed you
You did allay all fears
That's why I wanna sing for you

I know it could have been difficult there
Silently crying where there was once despair
I watched this bunch of faded flowers
Painful vision and painful hearts
But memories now, and memories die
Please, let them burn and let them fly
I wish I had done it before
That matters to me to let you know what I...

I think I have something to say
Just a few words beneath my lips
I'll sing it each time on my way
'Cause there is a truth I wanna see
Hey you've always been here
Anytime I needed you
You did allay all fears
That's why I wanna sing for you
That's why I wanna sing for you
That's why I wanna sing for you
