

Fade Away

Broken Bells

Might wanna try and raise the curtain
Before you go and change your mind
Long is the night and deep the cut in your side
"Ride in the vines," so say the serpent
Don't let them tame your mind
No other heart in the garden catches my eye
Stolen holiday
Where nobody knows our name
When the promise in your face
Eventually fades away
It's what we do now

Every day, my love
We're not made of stone
So we all (Fade away)
(Fade away)
(Fade away)

Gone is the time, you say it for certain
Controlling your hazel eyes
Somebody's heart will be dark and fetching tonight
Just enough today
So we keep the wolves at bay
And though we'd like to stay
Eventually comes the day
It's what we do now

Every day, my love
We're not made of stone
So we all (Fade away)
(Fade away)
(Fade away)

I saw a gutter flow
And the hill erode into nothing
So I let the razor fly again
Youth is a memory for that fever dream
Living on and
Failing the weeping bell, know it very well
Is it tolling for us now?

Every day, my love
We're not made of stone
So we all (Fade away)
(Fade away)
(Fade away)
