

HEART ATTACK

BRONSON

I've been patient, but I won't follow
'Cause I don't wanna be your friend
What does it matter in the end?
I want a little bit of lightning
No, I don't wanna be your friend
'Cause these feelings are violent

This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack

See I've been patient, but I won't follow
'Cause I don't wanna be your friend
What does it matter if it ends?
I want a little bit of lightning
No I don't wanna be your friend
I want a little bit of lightning

No I don't wanna be your friend
I want a little bit of lightning
What does it matter if it ends?
But I don't wanna live in silence

What does it matter in the end?
I want a little bit of lightning
No I don't wanna be your friend
Because these feelings are violent
What does it matter in the end?

This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack

This love's a heart attack
And now I won't go back

This love's a heart attack
This love's a heart attack

What does it matter anyway
What does it matter in the end
What does it matter anyway
What does it matter in the end
