

Don't Wait Anymore

Bronze Radio Return

Well there's too many people in the world today
Waiting on the world to change
There standing around, heads on the ground
Hoping things will re arrange
And they don't know what to do
And they don't know what to say
Ase the old generation fades

Oh we take a little, we give a little
Then we take just a little bit more
It's the system we live in, no it's the times we live in
We owe just a little bit more
Now I may not know what to do, and I may not know what to say
But I know I don't wait anymore for change
Don't wait anymore for change

I don't wait, I don't wait, I don't wait anymore
Because you can't change fate when you show up late
And leave it like it was before
And if your standing still like they think you will Then want are you standing here for
I don't wait, I don't wait, I don't wait anymore

Well there lovers and haters and phonies too
We see them on the tv screen
And they talk and they talk, but they rarely walk
To things that they say they mean
Now you don't have to listen to them and you don't have to listen to me because nothing more will change

If you see something wrong start doing it right
You don't have to say a thing
Cause talking don't mean that you're saying too much
When you're waiting on this world to change
Stop and wait no more
Stop and wait no more
I know I don't wait anymore for change
Don't wait anymore for change
