

Stop And Pose

Bronze Radio Return

Stop and pose again
Freeze for the camera then resume what you're doing
Where and how you met
Every little thing you do you document
And then you put it you put it you put it up on the space
The moments you collected you hang to decorate

Flash focus in your bag of tricks
Turn the real thing into a million pixels
Stop and pose and holding moments
Tossing the plate to take a picture only For your trophy case
While you're stopping and posing and capturing moments much more happens then you'll ever notice
Because all you wanted was a souvenir to prove that you were here

Then you filter frames of friends
Face to the streets so your neighbors can see them
It's evidence of where you've were
Everything you ever see is through a camera lens
And then you put it you put it you put it up on display
A gallery of time you took to validate

Flash focus in your bag of tricks
Turn the real thing into a million pixels
Stop and pose and holding moments
Tossing the plate to take a picture only you For your trophy case
While you're stopping and posing and capturing moments much more happens then you'll ever notice
Because all you wanted was a souvenir to prove that you were here
