

First Time

Brooke Alexx

Before you, I thought it was just in the movies
All the storybooks couldn't fool me
They just made the magic up

But I knew there was something different about you
Opened up the blinds in my dark room
Saw the light, then you were gone

I was crying for a month straight
But it was worth the heavy heartbreak
You're to blame, I'll never be the same

I thought love was a myth
'Til the moment it hit
Our silhouettes under moonlight
You showed me what it should be like
I've been changed ever since I found out it exists
Now I believe in lightning strikes
All 'cause I felt it the first time

Now I know the feeling I can search for
'Cause I'm sure more of it's out there
Yeah you taught me that it's real

And when I feel like breaking, I stay hopeful
You're the reason that I keep on Looking toward the day I'm healed

'Cause I know even on my worst days
That it was worth the heavy heartbreak
You're to blame, I'll never be the same
I'll never be the same

I thought love was a myth
'Til the moment it hit
Our silhouettes under moonlight
You showed me what it should be like
I've been changed ever since I found out it exists
Now I believe in lightning strikes
All 'cause I felt it the first time

Before you, I thought it was just in the movies
All the storybooks couldn't fool me
'Til I felt what magic was
