

Summer In The Hamptons

Brooke Alexx

1994, pulled up to the party
Saw her through a window when he got up off the Harley
High heels and a sunburn
He begged for her number

Love at first sight, damn, it's so classic
Straight out of the movies, tryna find that kind of magic
The kind that takes one kiss
I bet it hits different

Doesn't anybody want a love like that?
Doesn't anybody want to go way back to

Summer in the Hamptons
Million dollar mansions
Like, ooh
Pink skies in the rearview
Back on the seat, he got the keys, yeah

Summer in the Hamptons
Hands up in his jacket
Like, ooh
Feels too good to be true
Wild and free, rides like a dream, yeah

Ride it like a motorcycle
Said she like the bounce, yeah
She said she likes Tolstoy
Reads some books I can't pronounce, yeah
She got aura that she walk in with, that energy announce her
And she ten toes down, she know that I can't live without her
I'm out in Watermill with that girl that's worth a million
Told me on the real, it's been a minute since I felt something like it
That's just how I deal with crisis
Aw, yes, baby, put that water in my eye, I said

Doesn't anybody want a love like that?
Doesn't anybody want to go way back to

Summer in the Hamptons
Million dollar mansions
Like, ooh
Pink skies in the rearview
