

A Little Bit Of Heaven

Brotherhood of Man

If you cry, you don't get nothing
If you cry, you lose it all
Come with me, my love
Take the time, my love
Just relax, my love
And you fine

But If you cry, But If you cry
Don't get nowhere, nowhere
With a smile, With a smile
Suits you fine, Suits you fine

Take that worried frown put it upside down
Cause a laughing face, Suits you fine
There's a little bit of heaven waiting there for you and me
There's a little bit of heaven waiting to be found
There's a little bit of good in everyone you care to meet
Open up your heart and let the sunshine in

Oooo-da-da-do, Oooo-da-da-do

Come with me, my love
Take the time, my love
Just relax, my love
And you fine

There's a little bit of heaven waiting there for you and me
There's a little bit of heaven waiting to be found
There's a little bit of good in everyone you care to meet
Open up your heart and let the sunshine in

There's a little bit of heaven waiting there for you and me
There's a little bit of heaven waiting to be found
There's a little bit of good in everyone you care to meet
