

Chasing Light

Brothers Of Metal

She is golden, strong and true
The carrier of heavenly light
Shining victoriously, seeking the truth
Gazing through evil and lies

Pure and bright he will follow through
United are the siblings in the sky
Naked and pale, through waning and new
Haunted by the creature he flies

Constantly chasing, the wolves never tire
The hunt will go on 'til the end of time
Deep in the dark of your mind

Chasing light, they will swallow the flame of life - feeding on fire
God will rise - wherever there is hope to find (they will shine)
Chasing light - the beast will eat the children of the night - feeding on fire
Gods will rise - they will stand unbroken today

Glowing clearly, they prevail
Crossing over starlit plains
Conquering darkness, evading their fate
They run to shine another day

Hate has a thirst for blood and despair
Deceit and shame will swallow you whole
Canine of evil, creatures of fear
Feeding on the light of your soul

Constantly chasing, the wolves never tire
The hunt will go on 'til the end of time
Deep in the dark of your mind

Chasing light, they will swallow the flame of life - feeding on fire
Gods will rise - wherever there is hope to find (they will shine)
Chasing light - the beast will eat the children of the night - feeding on fire
Gods will rise - they will stand unbroken today

I wanna fly
With the sun and the moon on their quest in the sky
I wanna die
For liberty and justice
(To the point of no return)
A fight left to give
There's life left to live
(To the point of no return)
There's life left to live

Chasing light, they will swallow the flame of life - feeding on fire
Gods will rise - wherever there is hope to find (they will shine)
Chasing light - the beast will eat the children of the night - feeding on fire
Gods will rise - they will stand unbroken today
