

Nanna's Fate

Brothers Of Metal

By the stars, following the heart
Her dreams were set ablaze beneath the moon
What life unites divinity divided
A wordless pain in pale blue seas and skies

In life, in death
I will walk beside you
In life, through death
Wherever you go

Our love is on fire
Laying my life next to yours
Into darkness we will wander but never alone
I will fight for you
When the goddess claims your soul
I know death is not final

Unyielding grief like an open wound
The end of life was not the end for them
The one true love - like an endless fire (like an endless fire)
Embraced by death in misery forever more

In life, in death
I will walk beside you
In life, through death
Wherever you go

Our love is on fire
Laying my life next to yours
Into darkness we will wander but never alone
I will fight for you
When the goddess claims your soul
I know death is not final

Travel beyond, realm of the unknown
Into the nether where hope yields no power at all
Staying alive, enter illusions of light
We'll be sharing one breath, through darkness and death
I know death is not final
