

Down Home

Brothers Osborne

It might look like the same old same
The same old town, the same old name
Come right in, sit right down
Find yourself hanging around
For a couple more days
And I'm here to tell you for a pretty small town
There's a whole lot of something going down, down, down

Hey, hey, dig a little deeper
Drive a little further down an old dirt road
Old crow, gets a little sweeter
Once it gets to kicking and anything goes
My mind, amen
Just wait until the stars go down
There's a whole lot of something going down, down, down
Down home
Down home

Just sing along with the radio
Just a good old horse playing curtis row
Cheap guitars play out of tune
Barefoot dancing underneath the moon
It's a hell of a show
And what happens in the river we don't talk about
It's just a whole lot of something going down, down, down
Yes there is

Hey, hey, dig a little deeper
Drive a little further down an old dirt road
Old crow, gets a little sweeter
Once it gets to kicking and anything goes
My my, amen
Just wait until the stars come up
There's a whole lot of something going down, down, down
Down home
Down home

Hey, hey, dig a little deeper
Drive a little further down that old dirt road
Old crow, gets a little sweeter
Once it gets to thinking and anything goes
My my, amen
Just wait until the stars come up
There's a whole lot of something going down, down, down
There's a whole lot of something going down, down, down
Down home
Down home
