

Killa On The Run

Bruno Mars

Cm                      As                      B
I don't recognize my reflection

Cm                      As                      B
all i see is a product of your deception

Cm                      As                      B
gave you all of me without question

G
but you had to take advantage of a blessing

Cm                      As                      B
I warned you, I told you it would end this way

Cm                      As                      B
If you kept on playing all those childish games

Cm                      As                      B
But just like every other man you're all the same

G
Revenge is sweet I love the taste it's giving me
