Adventure Time

Bry

And if I—if I lose my head again,
Please remind me that I have nothing,
And I'd be nowhere without you to protect me.

If you—if you can't reach me again,
Well, you are my only friend,
And you'll find me at the bottom playing guitar badly.

'Cause life's a game to me but with only one controller,
And he's unhappy.

So please, please, please won't you join me until the very end?
It's adventure time again.

And when I—when I enter Fatherhood,
If I can't teach what is good,
Won't you promise that you'll refresh me?

If I—if I lose my Irish charm,
When there's grand kids hanging off my arms,
We'll go on an adventure and relive history.

'Cause life's a game to me but with only one controller
And it's out of batteries.

So please, please, please won't you join me until the very end?
It's adventure time again.

Oh, I fell in love with life but only when I met you.
Yeah, only right there and then.
So let's be what we could have been.
Oh, you could be most anything,
But all I wanted was a friend.

So please, please, please won't you join me until the very end?
It's adventure time again.
