

Anything

Bry

I know I'm the lucky one
But you're not supposed to feel that
I'll beg you please show a little more love
Now with my feigned conviction
I churn out one more performance
Before the sinking starts again
From every touch, I'll fail to tell if it's genuine
But somehow I want you more

If you were anything to me
I would let you know it
If I was everything to you
I'd still be in the darkness, darling

I guess I'm the ugly one
A body exposed by morning
I'll hide this face with humbled hands
Now shoulders and heads get kissed
It's everything I have missed
Before the sinking starts again
With every touch, I'll fail to tell if it's genuine
But somehow I want you more

If you were anything to me
I would let you know it
If I was everything to you
I'd still be in the darkness, darling

You're everything to me