

Care

Bry

I'd be lying if I said I never thought of dying alone
But I'm so vulnerable to just about everyone
And only one friend knows me
I sigh when another year is over
Where I've so little to account for
Oh what happened to the days of being happy?

If I told you what I'm feeling
Do you promise me you'll stay?

When we were little
Did you think you would be
Living in the middle
With someone like me
I won't care for myself
I can't care for myself

I'll try to be a little bit stronger
'Cause if I'm waiting any longer
There'll be no souls beside me
Be mine; I will appreciate your beauty
You'll doubt you ever even knew me
Oh I just want to make you happy

If I told you what I'm feeling
Do you promise me you'll stay?

When we were little
Did you think you would be
Living in the middle
With someone like me
I won't care for myself
I can't care for myself

I will be just so much better
I will love you so much more
I can't help myself
I can't help myself
I won't help myself
I won't help myself

When we were little
Did you think you would be
Living in the middle
With someone like me
I won't care for myself
I can't care for myself
