

Never Stop

Bry

I know it is clichéd when I say that you're looking down on us,
but I never believed in heaven
till I knew that's where you are.
I'm no longer afraid of death,
knowing that I'll meet you when it comes.

But silent, I'll live until it does.

We'll never stop loving you,
We'll never stop thinking of you,
We'll never stop wearing your clothes, writing you songs.

I know you're losing sleep but time's delusional when you wake and think he's there.
But just 'cos it's not physical don't mean his presence doesn't fill our air.

We'll never stop loving you,
We'll never stop thinking of you,
We'll never stop wearing your clothes, writing you songs and li ving the path that you put us on.

This is the Ross song.
This is the Ross song.
This is the Ross song.
