

She Knows Me

Bryan Adams

Winds will come and winds will go
And the seasons always change
But the light that shimmers in her eyes
Stays the same

Yeah, the sun will shine and the moon will glow
And the world will always turn
There's a constant fire inside of her
That always burns

She knows me
Every corner of my soul
She knows me
The way I come, the way I go
She told me
There's nothin' I can show
That she don't know about me

Round and round and round we go
Neither here or neither there
All I know, without her in my life
I'd be nowhere

Well, feelings come and feelings go
But some things never change
Like the light that shimmers in her eyes
It stays the same

Oh, she knows me
When I'm wrong or when I'm right
She knows me
In the middle of the night
She holds me
And I don't say a word
Cuz words could never save me

She's got a permanent hold on my heart
And I'm learning to live with the loneliness
When we're apart

Every little way
She knows me
When there's nothin' left to say

She holds me
And time just flies away
Cuz bein' with her is so easy

Oh, she knows me
Better than I know myself...
