She's Only Happy When She's Dancin'

Bryan Adams

Monday mornin' - it's time to get up Two cups of coffee and she runs for the bus Looks in the window and fixes her hair Nobody notices and nobody cares

She admits it ain't no kinda life Workin' 9 to 5 you know...

She's only happy when she's dancin'
There ain't no place she'd rather be
When she's dancin'
Just her heart and her soul and her fantasies

When Friday evenin' finally rolls around She grabs a taxi and she heads uptown Goes to a place they call "The Ball And Chain" Nothin' matters until Monday so she goes insane

Well it's a bitch tryin' to make ends meet But that's the way the story goes She's only happy when she's dancin' There ain't nothin' makes her feel so free When she's dancin' The girl's outrageous and it's plain to see

She ain't got much but she got independence Ya - she's doin' alright His eyes are on her as the evenin's endin' But she ain't goin' for no mystery Because nobody rides for free

She's only happy when she's dancin'
Dancin' - there ain't no place she'd rather be
When she's dancin'
Just her heart and her soul and her fantasies - dancin'
