

Drinkin' Alone Again

Bryan Andrews

I'm drinkin' alone again
Don't wanna tell my family or my friends
I thought I had a [?] for good this time
They probably knew that I was lying
And I just couldn't help myself
When it's all I've ever known
Changing the thing that made me me
I get strong that's what I'm suppose to be

I'm drinkin' alone again
I'm drinkin' all alone again

It ain't a problem
My life is still just fine
I still keep getting by
Still got my job and have my wife
And everything I alright
But I finally see the other side
And I've been longing for so long
But I'm so used to being gone

I'm drinkin' all alone again
Don't wanna tell my family or my friends
I thought I had a [?] for good this time
They probably knew that I was lying
And I just couldn't help myself
When it's all I've ever known
Changing the thing that made me me
I get strong that's what I'm suppose to be

I'm drinkin' alone again
I'm drinkin' all alone again

And I just couldn't help myself
When a bottle's all I know
I'm getting drunk again for fun
But I know I'm not the only one
I'm drinkin' alone again
I'm drinking all alone again

Now I'm drinkin' alone again
Don't wanna tell my family or my friends
I thought I had a [?] for good this time
They probably knew that I was lying
And I just couldn't help myself
When it's all I've ever known
Changing the thing that made me me
I get strong that's what I'm suppose to be

So I'm drinkin' alone again
Yeah I'm drinkin' alone again
I'm drinkin' alone again
