

Letting Go

Bryan Andrews

People will ask me why I stay
When they see, the way you hurt me
They can tell I'm broken inside
There ain't no use in trying to hide it
You can't make a stubborn horse drink

This is my life
And I think it's time
Gonna take back what is mine

And I'll sink my teeth into your lies
'Cause I like the way they made me fly
And I know you think that I will walk away
Tell this whole town that I'm the one who's insane
But I'm letting go today

There's only so much I can take
You made me hate the way you loved me
But you didn't think to put up a fight
You thought that I'll lay down and die
But in the darkness, I found life

And I'll sink my teeth into your lies
'Cause I like the way they made me fly
And I know you think that I will walk away
Tell this whole town that I'm the one who's insane
But I'm letting go today

And I'll sink my teeth into your lies
'Cause I like the way they made me fly
And I'll sink my teeth into your lies
'Cause I like the way they made me fly
And I know you think that I will walk away
Tell this whole town that I'm the one who's insane
But I'm letting go today
