

Driving Me Wild

Bryan Ferry

My heart is pounding I'm trembling with rage
I'm wrestling with my demons on every page

Can't read that label
I can't make it out It's a world of confusion that I'm talking about

You're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
You're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild,
you're driving me wild.

It's tearing me apart
How can I escape the shape I'm in No dream will ever be the same Everything around calls your name

I'm dealing with a feeling Like nobody knows an unkindness of ravens
A murder of crows

Out in the cold
I'm feeling so bad
Can't stop thinking about you and times we had

You're driving me wild...

Don't leave me in despair
Listen to my plea
Just one more time
I know that love can be unfair Wandering on my own, one of a kind

I keep on blaming myself
I'm a wise guy why do I end up on the shelf
A man with a mission, a dog with a bone
I type with one finger, destination unknown

You're driving me wild...
