

Divided States

Bryan Martin

Well, the ring leaders are hiding in the bushes
And they ain't looking to be seen
The media's eating it all up
And they instigate the whole damn thing

You're either red or blue, black or white
And there ain't no in between
But the tickets are on sale to watch it all go to hell
Right there on your TV screen

Tell me what happened to wanting peace and love
They got us all fighting now and we're taking off the gloves
Don't matter what side you're on
You know you're out for blood
Welcome to the Divided States of America

Well, the way I see it
The fate of this country ain't ever been up to one man
This is still one nation under God
And this is still His land

There's just one too many agendas
And what I don't understand
Is there's blood in our streets and blood overseas
And it's all on our hands

Tell me what happened to wanting peace and love
They got us all fighting now and we're taking off the gloves
Don't matter what side you're on
You know you're out for blood
Welcome to the Divided States of America

Well, tell me what happened to wanting peace and love
They got us all fighting now and we're taking off the gloves
Don't matter what side you're on
You know you're out for blood
Welcome to the Divided States of America
Welcome to the Divided
The Un-united States of America
States of America
