

Pieces

Bryant Barnes

Was it always hopeless? What led you to break?
Even if I fix you, would it be the same?
How could you even open your heart to someone else?
My tears could fill the ocean, should I blame myself?

Oh, what do I do with these pieces of you?
All that I had is shattered like glass all over my room
Don't tell me it's true, you've found someone new
I'm bleeding out fast, just tryna put back these pieces of you

Piece-by-piece, I'll put us back together
Memories, where we were somewhere better
Eternally, I'll hold on to these pieces of you

Did you even open up my letter?
Wish you'd see, the words go on forever
Eternally, I'll hold on to these pieces of you

These pieces of you
These pieces of you
