

Blows

Bryce Fox

Ooh yeah, aah aah
Ooh yeah, aah

She had a whole life took from the jump
Her made her mind, don't plan to reason
And I'm out of sight, by the back of her car
She's too stubborn to stop believing
When I'm asking you why you lonely?
Don't you just want someone to keep you company?
So lonely

Go brace yourself
You're quick to make the time to put yourself through hell
And bite back way too easy when you know it's dead wrong
Brace yourself, can you take the blows?
Can you take the blows?

She got a crazy past though
Almost shitty even go there, yeah
I know that men been assholes
But just the ones that don't care
I know you feel you don't deserve the good things
Give up too early with the passing between us
I swear, where do I fit in tomorrow
Please explain
When I can share the sorrow, all the pain

Go brace yourself
You're quick to make the time to put yourself through hell
And bite back way too easy when you know it's dead wrong
Brace yourself, can you take the blows?
(Can you take the blows?)
Can you take the blows?

It's okay saying no
This world ain't kind to the ones on their own
When you've got one paddle left to the turn on the roads
I hope you find your way out, your way out, your way out

Oh, you gotta climb, oh you gotta climb
Better make time before it's too late
Oh, you gotta climb, oh you gotta climb
If it gets hard, would you let it break and

Go brace yourself
You're quick to make the time to put yourself through hell
And bite back way too easy when you know it's dead wrong
Brace yourself, can you take the blows?
(Can you take the blows?)
Can you take the blows?
