

World's On Fire

Bryce Fox

You can never run away from the problems you start
And it's true you never know what you got till it's gone
And it's going
When we're letting our guard, down in the dark
Making it hard so far to come back from Dreaming of a world that could have been
Instead we push and we pull
And we fight till we fold and we

Maybe when the worlds on fire
Is when we're gonna realize
We're never gonna save our lives
If we don't make a sacrifice
If we don't bend we'll break
What's it gonna come to?
What's it gonna take?
Is it too late to change your mind?
Maybe when the worlds on
When the worlds on fire
When the worlds on fire

They say that reason
Can be a hard pill to swallow
Just like believing
That there's always tomorrow
I feel defeated
To see the hurt in those eyes
I'm tryna leave my son a life that gon' be better than mine
It takes a village
To build upon the sins of the forgiven
But still we rewrite every story that been written
I'm losing faith cuz everyday I'm starting judgement in the face
It's telling me that it's too late but maybe

Maybe when the worlds on fire
Is when we're gonna realize
We're never gonna save our lives
If we don't make a sacrifice
If we don't bend we'll break
What's it gonna come to?
What's it gonna take?
Is it too late to change your mind?
Maybe when the worlds on
When the worlds on fire

When the worlds on fire
When the worlds on fire
Instead we push and we pull and we fight till we fold and we
When the worlds on fire
Instead we push and we pull and we fight till we fold and we

Maybe when the worlds on fire we can save it just in time
