

Broken

Bryce Savage

He said what if I fall
She said what if you fly
She was a rainbow, but he's colorblind
She's left alone in the dark late at night
And she dreams in color, while he's black and white

Just tell her you love her
Just tell her you care
She needs to feel something
More than drugs and despair
The lonely are haunted
By the thoughts in the air
For her he can stop them but
He's never there

She drinks from the bottle
Likes whiskey and wine
She says that they are
Her only friend's at the time
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken

I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
I need you to know this
I see that your hopeless
I know that you're broken
I know that you're broken
