

Never Enough

Bryce Savage

She was never enough so now she does what she wants
She embraces all the hate and now she's having more fun
Laying out in the rain, staying in with the sun
She's so done with all the ways they say things should be done
She's taking her life right back
Never wanted to change like that
And now she doesn't have to fake her laugh
And doesn't feel so sad

She was never enough so now she does what she wants
She embraces all the hate and now she's having more fun
Laying out in the rain, staying in with the sun
She's so done with all the ways they say things should be done
Never wanted to change like that
And now she doesn't have to fake her laugh
And doesn't feel so sad

It's her life, she's having fun with it
Doing everything she loves, never questioning
Whether people will judge, say it's embarrassing
She'll fight their hate with some love that's her weapon and She's never going back
Freedom was all that she lacked
Her happiness all came from leaving all the hate in the past
Now she attracts
All the energy she gives coming back
Being herself was the cure to moving on at last

Be yourself
Just be yourself

She was never enough so now she does what she wants
She embraces all the hate and now she's having more fun
Laying out in the rain, staying in with the sun
She's so done with all the ways they say things should be done
Never wanted to change like that
And now she doesn't have to fake her laugh
And doesn't feel so sad
