

Miss You A Little

Bryce Vine

I miss you a little, all of the time
I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time

I miss you a little, all of the time
I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time, yeah

Nowadays we don't talk a lot
Yeah, I know we don't talk a lot
Still remember that heart to heart
Where I spilled it all in that parking lot
Right outside of that liquor store
You pulled the plug, and I hit the floor
Even now, I don't hate you for it
Hope you know I don't hate you for it

Yeah, and I know your whole team and that makes you jealous
Yeah, you play like I'm the one that can't keep it cool
Act like it's all fine but I'm storytelling
But for the record, yeah

I miss you a little, all of the time
I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time

I'm drinking, I'm smoking, you're coping in different ways
I see you in places with people you told me was fake
You out lying to yourself while I'm at home lying awake
This went from pleasure to pain, Cupid's been taking a break

Yeah, and I know your whole team and that make you jealous
Yeah, you play like I'm the one that can't keep it cool
Act like it's all fine but I'm storytelling
But for the record, yeah

I miss you a little, all of the time
I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time

You're running off the deep end
Always playing pretend
Thinking we could be friends
You already had that
Now I'm off the deep end
Sick of playing pretend
We should never have been, damn

I miss you a little, all of the time
I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time
I miss you a little, all of the time

I say that I hate you, but you're still on my mind
Every time we talk, I say that I'm fine
But I miss you a little, all of the time
