

Chasm

Brye

You've found a new crowd
And it's weird to say out loud
But I think that I might be a tad bit jealous

Lately we barely talk
You say, "all is well, nothing is off"
But I find myself craving our old closeness

I remember swapping poems
At the pond by your house
It was better to be seen by you
Than anyone else
I would've given anything to stay in that summer
Forever

If nothing happened
Why am I living in this chasm?
Are you fishing for a reaction?
Why am I living in this chasm?
(Nanana nanana)
Why am I living in this chasm?
(Nanana nanana)
Why am I living in this chasm?

You found a new guy
Like a week after dumping Eli
And he has no idea you're seeing someone

I feel like I'm being left behind
Like I'm an afterthought in your new life
Like you're call me any day now and say we're done

I remember driving Main Street
Windows down
Singing sylvan Esso songs
Crashing on your couch
I would have given anything to sleep in that dorm
Forever

If nothing happened
Why am I living in this chasm?
Are you fishing for a reaction?
Why am I living in this chasm?
(Nanana nanana)
Why am I living in this chasm?
(Nanana nanana)
Why am I living in this chasm?

Walking campus in the spring
Holding space for heavy things
Writing songs out on the lawn
Trying not to hate your mom

If nothing happened
Why am I living in this chasm?
Are you fishing for a reaction?
Why am I living in this chasm?

If nothing happened
Why am I living in this chasm?
If nothing happened
