

Thus I Became Kronos

Brymir

I am the dawn of empires
The raven cloaked in sun
The sun that shines forevermore

The land is dark in night
Still rivers blood-red run
But the ashes of war shall be redeemed
And you will see!

I shall be Deimos
As you flee from sacrament-light
But you cannot hide from justice
The solstice, the binding chains of truth...
Enslave you to my truth!

I am the dusk of kingdoms
A raven cloaked in stars
Powers undreamed now bend their knees

You are free as I decreed:
Not of sea, we are of sun
Blind remains the truth unleashed:
Men bow to monsters, not to the beast

Thus I become Kronos
My sons' last sacrifice-grave
The tyrant names his traitor
The God that defiles his name!