Brymo

This, that and the other
And love is the disorder
And there's something of which I'm certain
That you my lover has the stone cold syndrome

Maybe you feel like someday I'll be you
Ohh you are only tryna prove
That I'd choose you over them
You want to know everyday over and again so you is his love
This is how you sustain

This is blackmail, blackmail
She takes and she takes
You give and you break
Ohh, oh blackmail
You count and blush and we stutter
You rocked my world like no other
Love is the captivity that lovers chose
Seeing how you still love this fool like you do
Most times it feels like your love is all for you
And forever be yours but you never truly mine
You want my love everyday over and again
But I want something in return
All your love to sustain me
Blackmail
This is blackmail, blackmail

She takes and she takes
I give and I break
Ohh, oh blackmail

And it hurts and hurts and it hurts it's over
