

Never Look Back

Brymo

Young and restless
The world is cold and reckless
The eyes alone are endless and we're all defenseless

Young and restless
Love make the world go round
Greed will bring us down
History will come back around

We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back

Young and restless
Lay down your fears and face it
The future is yours so take it, don't you waste it
Young and restless
When time doesn't seem to fly
Remember sorrow won't last for a life time
If it does it will be just the life time

We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back

We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back
We will never look back

Young and restless
The world is so endless
Do I make sense?
The world is so senseless
