

We All Lose Sometimes

Brymo

You have regrets, they pile up
You want one, he wants 'em all
He rages on you get violent
He broke an arm, you're brokenhearted

Been so long, haven't been at my finest
I haven't had a good time in a long time
Your dying embers, your pride and highhandedness
Broken minds know nothing 'bout reason

It's alright brother, we all lose sometimes...
It's ok brother, it'll all be alright...

Hey now, wipe your frown
You always knew, you're going down
You're fated to it, thorns and crown
I always knew, you loved to drown

You are who your friends are, always remember
I haven't had a good one in forever
Your razor mouth, your envy and ill temper
Broken minds care nothing 'bout reason

It's alright brother, you all lose sometimes
It's ok brother, it'll all be alright...

You been gone, long gone
Maybe they don't want you no more
You be gone... gone, gone...
May you don't need 'em no more
