

Play With Fire

Brynn Cartelli

Pyromaniac, now I bet you're glad you've escaped
To somebody that's ready, forget about the mess I made
Promise her forever, carve it in your marble grave
And you can settle down in the town a couple miles away

Can you let it go?
Can you let it go?

So it's not my fault you wanted to play with fire
Built your house so tall with a love that won't expire
Yeah, you gave it all and then became a liar
So it's not my fault you wanted to play with fire

Knocking at my door, wanting more to ignite your flame
Before you come onboard, are you sure you want to play this game?

Can you let her go?
Can you let her go?

So it's not my fault you wanted to play with fire
Built your house so tall with a love that won't expire
Yeah, you gave it all and then became a liar
So it's not my fault you wanted to play with fire

You wanted to play
You wanted to play

When it's written in the ashes
And you're wondering, what would happen
And you know that, it was magic
Bet you carry all the baggage
When you play with fire
When you play with fire
