

How Dare You

Brynn Elliott

Hit me like lightning in the middle of the night
Don't know what to do
I wanna fight it but the more that I fight
The more I fall for you

I put the wall where my heart is
But you climbed over anyway
I should have stopped when it started
'Cause now I'll never be the same (Oh-oh)

How dare you
Make it so easy to love you?
How dare you
Make me hate being without you?
Who do you, who do you, do you think you are?
Coming and taking, taking a piece of my heart
How dare you
Make it so easy to lo-lo-love you?

I feel a distance when we're inches apart
It kills me when you leave
Why did you have to go and light up the dark?
Show what we could be

I put the wall where my heart is
But you climbed over anyway
I should have stopped when it started
'Cause now I'll never be the same (Oh-oh)

How dare you
Make it so easy to love you?
How dare you
Make me hate being without you?
Who do you, who do you, do you think you are?
Coming and taking, taking a piece of my heart
How dare you
Make it so easy to lo-lo-love you?

I'm falling, I'm falling way down
I got it, I got it bad now
Head over, head over heels now
Will you be there when I hit the ground?
I'm falling, I'm falling way down
I got it, I got it bad now
Head over, head over heels now
Will you be there when I hit the ground?

How dare you
Make it so easy to love you?
How dare you
Make me hate being without you?
Who do you, who do you, do you think you are?
Coming and taking, taking a piece of my heart
How dare you
Make it so easy to lo-lo-love you?
