Zero O'Clock

You know those days

Those days where you're sad for no reason

Those days where your body is heavy

And it looks like everyone else except you is busy and fierce

My feet won't set off, though it seems like I'm already too late

I'm hateful of the whole world

Yeah, here and there are click-clacking speed bumps

My heart grows crumpled and my words lessen

Why the hell? I ran so hard

Oh why to me

Come home and lie in bed

Thinking if it was my fault?

Dizzy night, looking at the clock

Soon it will be midnight

Will something be different?

It won't be something like that

But this day will be over

When the minute and second hands overlap

The world holds its breath for a little while

Zero O'Clock

And you gonna be happy

And you gonna be happy

Like that snow that just settled down

Let's breathe, like the first time

And you gonna be happy

And you gonna be happy

Turn this all around

When everything is new

Zero O'Clock

The beat slips away little by little

I can't put on an easy face

I keep forgetting familiar lyrics

There's nothing going my way

Yes, it's all in the past

Even talking to myself, it's not easy

Is it my fault?
Is it my wrong?
Only my echo comes back with no answer

Come home and lie in bed
Thinking if it was my fault?
Dizzy night, looking at the clock
Soon it will be midnight

Will something be different?
It won't be something like that
But this day will be over
When the minute and second hands overlap
Zero O'Clock

And you gonna be happy
And you gonna be happy
Like that snow that just settled down
And you gonna be happy
Turn this all around
Zero O'Clock

Put my hands together to pray
Hoping that tomorrow I'll laugh more
For me
It'll be better
For me

When this song ends
May a new song begin
Hoping that I'll be a little happier, yeah

And you gonna be happy
And you gonna be happy
Like that snow that just settled down
And you gonna be happy
And you gonna be happy
Turn this all around
