At that time, we were so tired
While looking up at those stars in the sky, too far out of reach

You at that time, didn't believe in galaxies
But I saw it, a silver galaxy

It would have hurt, it would have been so tiring
Because I ran towards the endless light

The tingling sun and that summer's air
The grey-lit streets' sounds that were so cold
I draw in a breath and knock at your door
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change

Now I wish we would smile more
It will be okay, because today's me is doing fine

Yesterday's you, now it's all clear
I want to hug the many thorns in the rose that used to sprout

The smiling kid, the child who used to just laugh brightly
When I see you like that, I keep laughing

The tingling sun and that summer's air
The grey-lit streets' sounds that were so cold
I draw in a breath and knock at your door
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change

Tonight
If I touch my hand against yours
Can you hold that hand?

I will be you

You just have to look at my galaxies
Be showered with all those stars
I'll give you my world

The lights illuminating your eyes
They're the me from now
You're my boy, my boy
My boy, my boy, my boy

We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
We gon' change
