Never mind

I ran while only looking forward
Without any chance to look around me
At some point I became the pride of my family
And to some extent, I succeeded
Suddenly the thought comes up
Around the time of puberty
Then, I was young and nothing scared me
A few setbacks, that really was nothing

The things that changed, my height that's grown some since then
And compared to that age, I'm more mature
The basement in Namsa-dong, from that studio
My beat has been laid all the way to Apgujeong, the origin of youth

Everyone around me said it, don't go overboard
If you act like a know-it all thinking you're going to make music
You'll destroy your home
From that time I didn't care, no matter what anyone said
I'd only live for my interests and my passions
From your point of view how am I doing now?
From your point of view how am I
What I want to ask to the people who prayed for me to fuck up

Do I seem like I destroyed my home, you bastards?

I don't give a shit

I don't give a fuck

Like I said a hundred times a day

"Don't worry about me"

I can taste failure and setbacks and bow my head

We're still young and immature, tie up all those worries

Moss grows for sure on a stone that doesn't roll

If you know you can't go back, now you can win over all those mistakes

Never mind

It's not easy, but engrave it on your chest

If you seem like you're going to crash, step harder, kid

Come on

Never mind

Never mind

No matter how thorny the path is, run

Never mind

Never mind

There are a lot of things in the world that you can't help, you better

Never mind

Never mind

If it seems like you're going to crash, step harder, kid

Never mind

Never mind

We're too young and immature to give up, kid

If it seems like you're going to crash, step harder, kid

If it seems like you're going to crash, step harder, kid
