I want to see you
Too much for words
I want to see you
Looking at your picture
I want to see you, but time is absent
Just passing
I blame myself for this time again
Distant wishes

It feels like a snowstorm even in summer
Like a winter season
The train with hearts aboard, already in the snow
I want to take your hand to the edge of the earth, and run away together alr eady
How far should I get off, will the spring day come?
Friend

Like the flakes of snow dancing in the sky
Like flakes of snow
If you could dance to you too
I could be able to come to you soon

The petals of snow

Are falling downwards
Fading away
I want to see you…
I want to see you…
To what extent, do you think
If you could count the freezing night
Hey, can we meet?
Can we meet?

Passing the end of winter
Until the gentle spring day
Until the flowers bloom
I want you to stay as you are
As you are

Did you change?
Without you, I changed
Stay with this flowing
I wonder what will change again
Everyone will be alright, huh?

That's right, now you are away
The feeling that I never moved on was...
It will not change, but now let's break up
That person is not painful to me anymore

You look like a sigh, sighing like a cold you
There are still such memories to be piled up yet

The petals of snow
Are falling downwards
Fading away
I want to see you…
I want to see you…
How long will it be, do you wonder
If you count the freezing nights?
Hey, can we meet?
Can we meet?

You know it all
You're my best friend
In the morning, come again
Any night or season
The end will come

Cherry blossoms bloom
Winter is already over
I want to see you…
I want to see you…
I'll count just few more nights
I will meet you
I will pick you up

Passing the end of winter
Until the gentle spring day
Until the flowers bloom
I want you to stay as you are
As you are
